

Siobhan “ShaBoom” Neilland

Siobhan Neilland, founder of OneMama, represents the heart of the OneMama organization. Passionate about making a difference in the world, Siobhan created OneMama to show those in need that they are loved and matter in this world.

Inspired by a Ugandan midwife, Mama Jamira, Siobhan found her calling helping people in desperate conditions empower themselves to create change. As she worked to help Mama Jamira's community, her vision blossomed into creating an organization that encompassed no limits, servicing impoverished communities worldwide. As a successful entrepreneur, Siobhan has taken her keen business sense and transmuted OneMama into a model that will create self-sustainability in each community it supports.

Siobhan also founded ShaBoom Products & Cosmetics as a long term funding venture for the OneMama organization and to show people you can look beautiful with natural products and change the world while you do it!

No stranger to poverty and hardship, Siobhan uses her own losses to inspire change and teach the global community how to overcome obstacles to achieve a fulfilling life. "Fighting for my Joy," is Siobhan's lifelong motto.

I want to make this a revolutionary social change. We can all find that little inscription in our heart to show that we can make a difference in the world.
